The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts, teachers and writers on Materia Medica who recommend them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompained with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

DISAPPEARANCE OF LABOR AGENT.

After receiving several Black Hand letters threatening him with death, unless he agreed to pay a certain amount of money, Andea Sparti, an Italian labor agent, with offices in Richmond and in New York, has mysteriously disappeared, and the police can find no trace of him. He is believrd to have been killed by members of the society of the Black Hand in New York, whither he went several weeks ago to secure the renewal of his license, leaving his Virginia business in charge of his wife.

Some weeks later, when Mrs. Sparti had not heard from her husband, and her money was nearly exhausted, she also left for New York, since which time nothing has been heard from her. Her friends fear that she has also become a victim of the Black Hand.

In November Sparti brought a number of Italian laborers to Virginia to work in the Arvonia slate quarries. The men went to Richmond, after having worked in the mines for a short time, and charged Sparti with having enticed them South, under false representations. They said that he had promised more pay than they were given and that his description of the work was misleading. Sparti was tried in the Police Court in Richmond, and later in the Hustings Court, and a small fine was imposed. As a result of the trial his New York licence was revoked

Just before his New York license was taken away, Sparti received a letter signed with a black hand, informing him that the society had taken cognizance of his treatment of the laborers, some of whom appear to have been members of the society, and that he would hear from them. A week later he recieved another letter from the same source, telling him that the society had tried him in its secret court and had sentenced him to contribute a large amount of money to the organization in expiation for his treatment of his fellow-countrymen. Death was the alternative. Sparti defied the society, and his friends believe he has been killed. The police in New York have been asked to investigate the matter.

REDUCTION OF WAGES.

A reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of all employes of the Southern Railway, except contract labor, such as engineers, firemen, &c., effective March 1, was announced in Atlanta yesterday. A previous cut of 10 per cent. affected general officers of the company.

After an all day conference between officials of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and a general committee of adjustment, headed by J. D. Keene, general chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors, it was announced in Louisville, Ky., last night that the Louisville and Nashville conductors have agreed to a reduction in wages. The reduction consists of a return to the wages in effect prior to March 1, 1907, and will take effect March 1, 1908.

Officers and subordinates of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, having salaries of $2,000 and upward are to suffer a reduction of 10 per cent on salaries. Of those that receive salaries between $1,200 and $2,000 there will be a reduction of 5 per cent. It is understood that these reductions will begin on March 1. The total savings on all the reductions will be about $125,000 a year.

The general manager of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company has addressed a circular letter to the chairmen of the various labor organizations on that system proposing a reduction in the wages of all employes in the different departments. It is said that the company desires to make a reduction on a sliding scale, with the understanding that when the revenues of the road reach $2,500,000 per month the wages are to be restored. It is stated that the revenue of the road before the present depression was seldom below $2,500,000, and that it has reached $3,000,000 a month.

By an overwhelming majority telegraph operators on the Northern Pacific have rejected the proposition made by the road in regard to a new schedule of hours and wages, to become effective on March 4, when the "hours of service law" goes into effect.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

It is understood that the Caton rolling stock bill will be unfavorably reported to the House of Delegates today or tomorrow. This bill provides that the rolling stock of the different railroads which traverse the State shall be fairly assessed in the several counties through which said railroads pass. This plan is a fair and equitable one and with a few exceptions every county in the State would be benefitted by the provision of the bill, Richmond, Petersburg and Roanoke, however, would lose by the plan for these three cities, under present conditions, are given a very much larger share of the assessment than they are justly entitled to receive. Why, then, an unfavorable report should be made upon the bill it is difficult to understand. As, as has heretofore been stated, all the remaining cities, and nearly all the counties in the State would be profited under the provision of the bill, it would be an easy matter for these cities and counties to pass the bill over the adverse recommendation of the committee which will report it.

The Right Rev. Thomas Edward Wilkinson, Bishop for North and Central Europe, writes to the London Daily Mail from Riga, describing the devastation wrought in Russia generally, and particularly in the Baltic provinces, by the revolutionists. He says that its extent is quite unknown to the world at large, and fully justifies the measure of repression adopted by the Russian government. The bishop says the government's fault has not been over severity, but too great leniency and forbearance. Unfortunately, the work of death and destruction is not yet at an end. "Whatever," concludes the Bishop, "may have been the destruction of life in the French revolution, I doubt if the destruction of Lomes and property was as great in France as in Russia."

Former Governor Douglas, of Massachusetts, who understands the tariff question thoroughly, declares that the "trust busting" business, as conducted at Washington, is farcical and that neither the policies nor the methods of President Roosevelt are right. He believes that these policies and methods are intended to accomplish results in the interest not of the people, but of the trusts. Gov. Douglas thinks, as other democrats do, that the only possible remedy for trust evils is to revise the tariff which enables trusts to monopolize the market.

Senator La Follette says that seventy-six men, holding 1600 directorships in the great business concerns of the country, control the business of the nation, and that the railroads are controlled by eight men. No wonder the last republican national convention refused Senator La Follette a seat in that convention, and that there is an evident conspiracy to keep him out of the coming convention. The republican machine does not allow such home thrusts to be made by those labeled republicans.

Governor Cummins, of Iowa, has defeated the Allison-Shaw combine, and will control the delegates to the national convention. Congressmen Cousins and Birdsall, both "standpatters," have fallen by the wayside, and now announce they will not be candidates for renomination. The Iowa "idea" that the tariff fosters trusts is evidently coming to the front again.

It costs Canadian makers $6 per ton to put their print paper in the markets of the United States, and yet they are underselling the paper trust and making a profit on their sales. This but shows how the paper trust is robbing the people.

The bishops of the African M. E. Church have declared for Senator Foraker for President, and intimate that certain elements of the negroes may bolt, if he is not nominated. And this occurs under the very shadow of the White House!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., February 28.

The storm center of the submarine scandals now threatens to hire the room of the naval affairs committee of the House on account of the second Lilley resolution introduced late yesterday, asking the Secretary of the Navy to send to the House all the data within his reach on submarines. The resolution was referred to the naval committee for report. The membership of this committee is said long ago to have ceased to be on friendly terms, and it is no uncommon thing to hear members about the lobbies apply epithets to fellow members that would not look well in the family autograph album. The latest Lilley resolution puts up to the committee the dilemma of either turning down an appeal for information that may reflect on it or of asking for information from the Navy Department that it should have possessed before it made its recommendations to the House for additional appropriations for submarines. The resolution carries the implication that the committee proposes to pay too much for the submarines of the octopus type; that these boats are disappointing in service and that the government has violated the law by including secret clauses in the contracts for their construction. The rules committee is still wrestling with the original Lilley resolution demanding an investigation of the legislative methods of the Electric Boat Company. In the past few days, the Speaker has been besieged by members of both parties to open the way for a searching inquiry into the Lilley charges, and it is predicted that, either today or tomorrow, such a resolution will be reported from the committee.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Root and other Cabinet members in common with the Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, are being invited by the citizens reception committee of San Francisco to be present and participate in the festivities of welcoming the Atlantic fleet to California waters. Secretary Metcalf has already accepted, the President has said he will be unable to go and Secretary Root has yet to make his reply. It is not known yet whether any other Cabinet members will be able to attend. It is understood that Baron Takahira, the new Japanese Ambassador, will visit the Pacific coast the coming spring to personally investigate the labor and other conditions among his people there, and probably will arrange to be in San Francisco at the time of the fleet's arrival.

Representative Lilley, the author of the now famous submarine investigation resolution left Washington today to keep an agreement to address the Business Men's Association of Norwich, Conn., at a banquet. His departure from this city may mean the postponement of action by the House on his resolution, although the committee on rules is paying no attention to his absence and took up at 11 a. m. the question of reporting back to the House his resolution of inquiry. Before leaving the city Mr. Lilley asked Speaker Cannon to defer action on his resolution until his return next Tuesday.

The orders to the war vessels in the Philippines to prepare for protected service, as reported in cables from Manila, is explained here by the fact that W. W. Rockhill, the American Minister to China, will use one or more of the men of war as on escort on his proposed visit to the viceroy of Nankin and Hankow, China, next April. This may be extended to include other viceroys of the empire. The visit of Minister Rockhill is regarded as significant, in view of the friendly policy of the United States toward China.

With the Order of Railway Telegraphers contesting every point brought out by the railroads in support of their contention that the time is not yet ripe for limitation of the hours of work of train dispatchers, the hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission was continued today. Former Secretary of the Navy Hillarey A. Herbert spoke on behalf of the Seaboard Air Line, declaring that, with the present insolvency of that company it would be practically impossible to undertake the additional burden the employment of new operators would entail. President Perham of the Order of Railway Telegraphers presented telegrams from members of his organization on the Union Pacific purporting to show the fallacy of the company's claim that there was insufficient accommodation for men at the 47 stations where extension is asked.

Deprived of her rights, because of national prejudice, the Countess of Buena Vista, today though her attorneys, laid before the U. S. Supreme Court reasons why Major General John R. Brooke, U. S. N. (retired), should pay heavy damages for abolishing her right to slaughter cattle in the city of Havana. General Brooke's side of the case was presented by the Department of Justice. While in command of the American army of occupation in Cuba, in 1899, General Brooke cancelled the countess's franchise, accorded her by the king of Spain years ago. He did this on the ground that the health of the city demanded it, but, later, a franchise to slaughter cattle in the same place was granted to persons more friendly to the American government. The lower court has held that the countess had no claim against General Brooke, personally, but that she might have secured damages from the United States government. Attorney Frederick Coudert, of New York, presented the argument for the countess, and assistant Attorney General Russell for General Brooke.

The House committee on baking and currency this afternoon agreed on a favorable report on the Fowler currency bill, by a note of 11 to 6, two democrats answering present, but not voting. The principal amendment to the bill is the striking out of the feature requiring national banks to keep savings accounts. The provision for a general guarantee fund for depositors is retained in the bill. According to Mr. Gillespie the Fowler bill comes into the House halt and lame. "Every man of us," he said, "reserved the right to oppose any part of the bill on the whole of it."

Postmaster General Meyer is of the opinion that it is prejudicial to the welfare of "Young America" to employ him as a special delivery messenger in the postal service, and has therefore issued an order to the effect that whenever a vacancy occurs in the force of special delivery messengers by removal, registration or other cause the position shall not be filled and that substitute letter carriers and clerks shall be employed to effect special delivery.

Representative Carlin has introduced a bill to regulate the sale of milk and cream in the District of Columbia, which was endorsed at a meeting of the Dairymen's Association of Virginia and Maryland, and of the Milk Dealers' Association of the District. The bill is comprehensive in its scope.

Father Catalina, of East Newark, N. J., died at the Emergency Hospital this morning from the effects of cerebral hemorrhage. He had been on a trip South, and was returning home when he stopped off at this city for a brief visit. He registered at the Raleigh Hotel at night and the next morning he was found unconscious in bed.

Georgia home beer may be sold at post exchanges of the army in the State of Georgia, according to a decision of Brig. Gen. George B. Davis, Judge Advocate General of the Army, rendered today. An analysis of the beer shows that it contains 1.82 per cent. alcohol which falls below the percentage of alcohol allowed in drinks by the Georgia law.

Heeding the clamor of a public buildings bill, leaders of the House announced today they will put such a measure through this session. This means that all sections of the country will get free buildings at government expense.

The Senate committee on Philippines today made favorable reports on the bill removing the restrictions placed by the coastwise laws of the United States upon Philippine shipping.

In accordance with the wish of the President, the House committee on naval affairs today reported to the House for passage the Bates bill providing for the strong fortification of Pearl harbor, Hawaii, a strategic point in the Pacific.

News of the Day.

Henry Clows denied in New York today that his son, Henry Clows, has parted from his wife, formerly Mrs. Fred Gebhard.

The Fowler currency bill was adopted yesterday by the House committee on banking and currency in practically the form in which it was introduced.

Representative Lilley yesterday introduced resolutions calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for all information in his possession concerning submarine boats.

The woman suffrage bill passed its second reading in the House of Commons today by a majority of 179. There is no possibility of its passage through the upper house.

Seven of the terrorists charged with complicity in the plot to assassinate Grand Duke Nicholaievitch and the minister of justice were condemned to death by a military court in St. Petersburg yesterday.

Justice Dowling in New York today denied the application made by Charles W. Morse for an inspection of the minutes of the grand jury that indicted the "ice king" on two separate charges of larceny.

While driving across the railroad track at Greensville, Pa., last night in a blinding snow storm Frank Pauley and his wife were instantly killed and Benjamin Eckenrode probably fatally injured by being struck by an Erie freight train.

A military court, sitting in the Fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul at St. Petersburg under the presidency of General Nikiforoff, yesterday condemned to death seven of the terrorists charged with complicity in the attempt last week in St. Petersburg upon the lives of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, a second cousin of the Emperor, and M. Chtcheglovitoff, the minister of justice, and sentenced three others to 15 years' imprisonment at hard labor. Two women were also sentenced to death and one to imprisonment. The accused all refused counsel. The public was excluded from the hearing.

Virginia News.

The Norfolk and Western railway has submitted a reduced wage-scale to employes' unions.

Mr. Joseph Coxen died at the hotel in Fairfax, on Monday night last of consumption, aged 44 years.

The Anti-Saloon League of Winchester yesterday began the circulation of petitions for the signatures of the requisite number of voters to sustain a local option election there.

Capt. George C. Thompson of Culpeper, now in his eighty-fifth year, was taken to the Charlottesville Hospital Wednesday night for an operation. He is suffering from peritonitis and complications. He is well-known as agent of the Southern Railway at that place, and two of his sons are in the employ of the same road.

HUSBAND KILLS WIFE.

In a rage because she had refused to go with him from Philadelphia into New Jersey to live, Jacob Koebler, aged twenty-five years, shot and instantly killed his wife, Lillian; wounded her father and mother, and then sent two bullets into his head yesterday. Mrs. Koebler had been living at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph A. Ferber, because of ill health.

Koebler, who had been out of employment, went to the house yesterday afternoon and asked his wife to go with him to his home, in Acto, N. J. Mrs. Koebler refused, whereupon Koebler sent a bullet into her head. Mrs. Ferber tried to prevent the tragedy, and was shot in the arm. Her husband grappled with his son-in-law, and in the struggle he was shot in the face.

When Koebler succeeded in breaking away from Ferber he ran upstairs and twice shot himself in the head. He failed to inflict serious injury upon himself. He tossed the revolver aside, and, jumping from a rear window, fled across the open country, followed by a crowd that had been attracted by the shooting.

He was captured after a chase of half a mile and taken to a hospital with his injured parents-at-law. He had been married a year.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday Senator McCreary made an address in opposition to the Aldrich bill.

The Indian appropriation bill was discussed for two hours, but its consideration was not completed.

Senator Burkett made an effort to secure consideration of the Dolliver school bill, but on a point of order, made by Senator Nelson, the bill was left on the calendar.

After a short executive session, in which the conventions adopted by the last peace conference at The Hague were considered, the Senate adjourned.

In the House a bill validating bonds issued by the territory of New Mexico was passed.

The House in committee of the whole proceeded to the further consideration of the army appropriation bill. The proposed increases in pay for enlisted men were knocked out on points of order.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Commissioner of Labor Neill said yesterday in Washington that the conferences between the mediation board and the Southern Railway officials and employees who have been unable to agree on the proposed wage reduction scale will be held possibly by Saturday.

Commissioner Neill and Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, are the mediation board designated by law for such cases. Commissioner Neill has called on the Southern for the names of the organizations, and the addresses af their representatives with whom the road has been dealing the past two weeks in the effort to compromise on the wage reduction. These include the machinists, engineers, firemen, railway telegraphers, and other employees.

The Legislature.

SENATE.

The Senate yesterday took up and passed the resolution, which permits the United States government to build a temporary postoffice in the southeast corner of the Capitol Square.

The House later refused to vote on the Senate resolution, which was referred to the committee on public property.

The Byrd liquor bill was again the center of attack after the morning hour expired and until the afternoon session adjourned at 5 o'clock.

All manner of amendments were offered to the Byrd liquor bill, and though not a great many of them were adopted, a sufficient number got through to change materially the complexion of the measure.

HOUSE.

The House devoted almost the entire day to the further consideration of the general appropriation bill. The bill was bombarded from many sides, and a good many amendments were stuck on. The most significant was that offered by Mr. Janney, and adopted, changing the section with reference to schools so as to increase the appropriation from $450,000 to $475,000. The bill fixed the sum at the former figure, which was an increase of $50,000 over the appropriation of two years ago.

KISS DELAYED THE SHIP.

The Mary Garden kiss, the "Dream Waltz" kiss and all other famous kisses of lengthy duration were left at the post yesterday when the real "steamer kiss" was exemplified on the gangplank of the steamship La Touraine, of the French line, which delayed the steamer's sailing from New York a second over three minutes, which was the time of the prolonged smack. The order had been given to draw in the gangplank by Agent Fouget when a dainty and pretty French girl leaped from a taxicab and dashed for the steamer. She had run halfway up the gangplank when she noticed the preparations to depart and she paused and cried: "Francois." A form, in the person of a good-looking young Frenchman answered her cry from the steamer and they were in each other's arms before any of the crew could prevent him from leaving the steamer. As they locked arms their lips met and the kiss was on.

Persons aboard the steamer and on the pier stopped waving and calling adieus, the crew ceased shouting, while the captain forgot to give any further orders and simply gasped as the kiss continued. Agent Fouget was the only one who retained his presence of mind, and at the start had exclaimed: "Oh I cannot stop that." With watch in hand, he had been directing the departure of the big steamer. He kept one eye on the couple and the other on the watch as it ticked off the seconds. "One minute," he murmured soothingly to himself; "two minutes," he whispered, but as the hands moved around he could not repress his agitation as he almost shouted "Three minutes." The last call was evidently heard by Francois and his pretty sweetheart, for a second later they unwound themselves from their embrace and the kiss was over.

MR. RHEA CONFIRMED.

After a stormy session, in which numerous orators were heard for and against the confirmation of Judge William F. Rhea, of Bristol, to be corporation commissioner to succeed Henry C. Stuart, resigned, the joint assembly of the legislature at midnight voted to confirm Governor Swanson's appointee. The vote stood 87 to 46. Every vote cast for confirmation was that of a democrat, while each of the nineteen republicans voted against the nominee.

There were but seven of the legislators absent when the vote was taken, and of that number none were Senators.

Senator Noel immediately after the meeting was called to order rose to a question of personal privilege and asked that the joint assembly allow the evidence of a witness to be introduced.

He stated that the witness would testify that he had received the telegram alleged to have been sent by Judge Rhea to certain of his followers, and which was the cause of the letter written by Henry C. Stuart, and which has been the cause of much comment during the investigation. His request was refused, and he was ruled to be out of order.

Mr. James R. Caton, of Alexandria, moved that the debate be limited when the resolution was read. There was much disapproval and a vigorous debate. There was much disapproval and a vigorous debate. Senator Sale, of Norfolk, was speaking to the resolution when Delegate Goolrick, of Fredericksburg, moved that the motion be at once put. This motion served to enliven the debate but when the vote was finally taken it was overwhelming to cut off the discussion at a fixed time.

TAKEN TO WASHINGTON.

Richard H. Wimsatt, who was arrested in New York in connection with alleged conspiracy to commit grand larceny in Washington, D. C., was taken early in [illegible] yesterday. While two to the latter city [illegible] on deputy United States marshals were on their way to Jersey City with the prisoner, Wimsatt's counsel obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Noyes, in the United States Circuit Court of New York ordering Marshal Henkel to produce the prisoner in court that afternoon. Before the writ could be served, however, the officer had reached the New Jersey shore, and they declined to obey the writ, claiming to be beyond the jurisdiction of Judge Noyes.

When an effort was made to take Wimsatt back to Washington he fought the extradition. The case was carried through several courts, and was finally decided against the man.

Wimsatt was married to Marie Gamble, who was a member of the famous Florodora Sextette. They were divorced several years ago, and Miss Gamble then married Fred Gebhard, of Baltimore.

Riot Among Italians.

Steubenville, O. Feb. 8.—Italians of different provinces in their native country opened an old feud in a construction camp near here today, and in the riot resulting, guns, knives and clubs were used, causing the death of M. Vespa, the fatal stabbing of Tony Adena and serious injuries to half a dozen others. Vespa was forced in front of a street car and ground to pieces and Adena was stabbed three times in the stomach and breast. He cannot live. The six others injured have knife wounds, but all will recover. The sheriff has arrested ten of the combatants.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Mr. Rhea Qualifies.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Feb. 28.—Judge William F. Rhea today qualified before Judge R. Carter Scott as a member of the Corporation Commission at the request of Rhea Judge Scott went to Rhea's home where the oath of office was administered in the presence of Mrs. Rhea, Judge Rhea signed the formal papers with a gold pen which he subsequently presented to his wife.

Against Judge Blackstone.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Feb. 28.—The House committee investigating charges against Judge Blackstone today unanimously reported. The report finds him guilty of gross immorality neglect of official duty and recommends his removal from office. Judge Blackstone is given leave to show cause if any why he should not be removed. The house received the report but took no action today.

Attempt to Assassinate Shah.

Teheran, Persia, Feb. 28.—A bomb was thrown at the Shah's automobile today as the ruler drove through the streets. Three of his outriders were killed and many wounded. It is uncertain as yet who perpetrated the outrage. The Shah escaped.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.

Teheran, Persia, Feb. 28.—Two bombs were thrown at the shah of Persia as he drove through the streets today. The ruler escaped unhurt, but three of his outriders were killed and twenty-one persons were injured. The would-be assassins escaped.

But for the fact that the shah, against whom many threats have recently been made, had taken the precaution to send a closed motor car ahead of his own carriage, there is little doubt he would have been killed. The conspirators were awaiting him on the roof of a house.

So narrow is the street in which the outrage was committed that it was necessary to do little more than drop the explosives from the top of the building.

It is explained that the plotters supposed the shah was in the motor, and the two bombs were thrown in rapid succession as it passed their hiding place.

The first exploded in the air, but the second fell almost underneath the car and burst with terrific violence. The motor was blown to bits and the guards and spectators who lined the streets were hurled in heaps.

The door of the house was instantly broken open by the police, but while the building was being ransacked the would-be murderers had reached another roof and fled.

The driver of the shah's carriage had quickly pulled up at the first report, and the vehicle, surrounded by guards, was driven at top speed to the palace.

The ruler has been at sword's points with a large element of his subjects for some time as a result of his efforts to set aside the constitution granted by his predecessor. The attempt was recently abandoned, however, the disorders which had been raging in many Persian cities subsided and it was supposed the trouble was over.

Washington, Feb. 28.—A dispatch from Minister Jackson at Teheran, to the State Department today, says that a bomb was thrown at the Shah of Persia. Several persons were killed, but his majesty was uninjured.

Friction Between China and Japan.

Pekin, Feb. 28. News that Japan has laid claim to the Yalu river islands as Korean territory has fairly paralyzed Chinese officialdom. That the islands belong to China has never before been questioned. Though neither is of great extent nor value, the islands are of some strategic importance, and to be forced to surrender them without the shadow of a pretext on the Mikado's part would be the deepest possible humiliation to the Chinese. The claim is generally accepted here as a mere basis of trouble and as threatening to bring the increasing friction between the two governments to a crisis very soon. No formal demand for the islands has been made, but it is assumed that the Japanese will soon attempt to seize them. China has been taken completely by surprise and is undecided what to do, but sentiment in government circles strongly favors resistance.

Tokio, Feb. 28.—Japan which has never before permitted foreign soldiers to fight under her banners, is prepared now to accept the services of mercenaries from other lands. The new army and navy regulation make provision relative to the person and property of foreign officers and men so employed.

Japanese financiers are giving out interviews today complaining that the extent of the financial troubles in their country are being exaggerated abroad. Officials of the Tokio stock exchange have issued a statement explaining that continued depression in the silk market and an unsatisfactory cotton trade with China have, indeed, caused some stringency, but that there is no panic. The embarrassement has amounted to no more thus far, it is added, than the failure of a number of Osaka and Kobe firms with about 4,000,000 yen liabilities, to the closing of a few banks in the provinces and to extreme market dullness

London, Feb. 28.—Japan has sent several warships to Hong Hong, according to a news agency message, to force a demand on China for the surrender of the Tatsu Maru, a Japanese vessel recently seized by the Chinese off Macao on the ground that it was smuggling arms and ammunition to Chinese revolutionists.

The formal demand from Tokio upon the Pekin goverment is said, according to the agency message, to have called also for indemnity for the seizure on the ground that the shipment consigned to a Portugese merchant at Macao, was a bona fide transaction.

It is asserted in Tokio that the consignment to a Portugese was a mere pretext and that there is overwhelming evidence that the shipment was contraband.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 28.—The market continued dull and narrow with some gains at the opening, evidently the result of a slight improvement in speculative tone, and enough demand appeared to cause further fractional gains in many stocks during the early part of the first hour. Nearly all the business was purely professional. London traded in about 5,00C shares about evenly divided between sales and purchases.

"Chief" Reilly Killed.

New York, Feb. 28.—"Chief" Reilly, of the "forty-thieves" hold-up-man, desperado, life saver and combination all-round criminal and hero, was slain early today in "Tom" Cravens' eastside saloon. Cravens admits he fired the shots which ended the career of one of the most remarkable crooks the New York police ever had to deal with. The "forty thieves" have long been the terror of the upper eastside. Their activity made it unsafe for pedestrians to venture into their bailiwick after dark.

According to Cravens the thieves have frequently held him up of late, but failed to catch him with much money. About 1 o'clock this morning he says "Scar" and three followers burst into the saloon and undertook to seize the contents of the cash drawer.

All were armed, but the saloonkeeper, snatching his revolver from behind the bar, managed to fire the first shot. Reilly fell and Cravens kept on shooting. Then "Scar's" followers fled.

Cravens examined his victim and found him dead. Then, he says, he lost his head. Instead of notifying the police he carried the corpse to a hallway back of the saloon and left it there in a pool of blood.

A man who stumbled over it an hour later notified a policeman. The latter found persons who had overheard the shooting in the saloon, sought Cravens at his home and took him to the station house. There he told his story and is held pending an investigation.

Reilly was but a short time out of the penitentiary. He was once a private in the old Humpty Jackson gang on the lower east side. When the police broke it up he went up town and became leader of the "forty thieves."

In spite of the scores of robberies and assaults he committed and murders of which he was suspected, "Scar" was celebrated as a life-saver. The river front knew him as a hero for the daring with which he plunged into the water for drowning men, women and children. It is said he has saved dozens from death by his skill and strength as a swimmer and his own absolute indifference to danger.

From head to foot he was marked by knife thrusts and bullet wounds. Hence his title of "Scar." His real name is said to have been John Reilly. None knew whence he came. He never spoke of relatives and had no friends outside his band of "forty thieves."

Entombed Miners.

Monterey, Mex., Feb. 28.—Rescue parties are making desperate efforts to reach the 200 men entombed by yesterday's explosion in mine No. 3 at Rosita, in the heart of the Coahuila coal fields. The gas is still so thick, however, that but little progress is being made, and rescuers are working in peril of their own lives. Several have already been brought out unconscious. It will be several days before the men buried in the remote part of the workings can be reached. The entombed miners are all Mexicans or Japanese, but several American foremen and engineers were in the mine at the time of the explosion. It is feared most of those in the workings must already have succumbed.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.

Sabina, Coahuila, Mex., Feb. 28 — Efforts are being made today to extinguished flames in the Rosita coal mine No. 3 at Muzquiz, which were started by an explosion of fire damp. It was thought many miners had lost their lives, but they were rescued.

Steamers Aground.

Baltimore, Feb. 28.—The Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company's steamer Gloucester, which sailed for Boston last night, and the Ontario, of the same line, due here today from Boston, are aground side by side near the mouth of the Chesapeake Bay. The Gloucester grounded on her way out, and as the Ontario came in she stopped to help the former off. As a result, she too, became fast. They are both resting in easy positions, and officials of the company expect to have them off tonight. The steamer Howard stopped to lend assistance, and was grounded for a short period, but, being a lighter vessel managed to get off unassisted.

Consolidation of Banks.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Arrangements which practically have been concluded for the consolidation of the American Trust and Savings Bank and the Hibernian Banking Association, with a deposit account of $43,000,000 and a capital of $4,500,00 have startled La Salle street financial circle. The negotiations originally were taken up last July, but were interrupted by the financial upheaval of the fall.

Veteran Killed.

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 28.—Clark Lillibridge, proprietor of the Armory Hall Market and a well-known G. A. R. veteran, was murdered in his barn on Marble street today. Policeman, attracted by the shooting, immediately arrested Anton Neiman, who was found with a smoking revolver in his hand, Neiman confessed to the shooting, claiming Lillibridge had slapped his face.

The Kentucky Senatorship.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 29.—Indications from the early voting now in progress are that W. O. Bradley, republican, will defeat J. W. C. Beckham for the United States Senate. The democrats are trying to break the quorum and may be successful. The vote is being taken amid scenes of turmoil. If elected, Bradley will be the second republican Senator in the history of Kentucky.

Royal Marriage.

Coburg, Germany, Feb. 28.—Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Princess Eleonore Caroline Casparine Louisa, of Reuss were married here today. That was a brillant gathering of nobility and minor European royalty and elaborate police precautions were taken to prevent any attempt at violence.

Another Suit.

Cleveland, O. Feb. 28.—District Attorney Sullivan has just filed a suit against the Standard Oil Company in the local federal courts, similar to that in St. Louis, summoning the company to appear in court March 9.

Execution of Wife Murderer.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 28.—Edward A. Wilson, colored, was handed in the city jail here this morning for the murder of his wife last August. The drop fell at 10:10 and he was pronounced dead at 10:12.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 28.

SENATE.

The Senate decided today that when it adjourn it be to Monday.

Senator Reed Smoot warmly defended Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou in his methods of meeting the recent financial flurry. He spoke of the Secretary's course as "wise, fair and patriotic."

HOUSE.

Determined that the increase for enlisted men and non-commissioned officers in the army shall not be kept out of the army appropriation bill on a point of order, the House today adopted a rule that the item for the increase shall not be subject to this technicality. The rule was brought in by the committee on rules to overcome the point Representative Tawney (rep. Minn.) chairman of the appropriation committee made against the item as being new legislation.

The House passed a concurrent resolution, already agreed to by the Senate, authorizing the Secretary of State to invite the nations to send delegates to the International Congress on tuberculosis, to be held in Washington next September.

MURDERED MANY WOMEN.

A dispatch from Verkhoturye, Perm, Russia, says the Circuit Court of that town meted out partial justice to a monk named Feodotoff, whose criminal and iniquitous life was revealed last fall, by sentencing him to penal servitude for 15 years.

Feodotoff went to Verkhoturye about two years ago and set up a shrine in a neighboring forest, where he lived as a hermit. He soon attained a great reputation for marvelous cures, and his little chapel in the solitude of the woods became the objective for pilgrimage from all parts of the Province of Perm. The monk enjoyed a great reputation for sanctity, but when the revelations came it was learned that his holy ways and words were nothing but a cloak for robbery, murder and debauchery of every kind.

The repeated disappearance of female pilgrims who visited the monk's chapel finally attracted the attention of the authorities, and an investigation disclosed the bodies of no less than 20 victims whom Feodotoff had assaulted and murdered, and then buried in the cellar of his house. The charge of sacrilege, in that he had stolen the sacramental vessels from churches and monasteries, also was established against the hermit.

ENGINE STRUCK ELECTRIC TRAIN.

There was considerable excitement in this city between 10 and 11 o'clock last night when it became noised about that a north bound Southern Railway locomotive had struck an electric train at the intersection of Cameron and Henry streets and and that a number of people had been seriously hurt.

Many people repaired to the scene of the accident, but there were general expressions of relief when it was seen that the collision was by no means as disastrous as had been reported. A number of people were more or less hurt, however, but none of as serious nature as had been supposed, but all concurred in the opinion that the occupants of the electric cars had a narrow escape.

The electric train left the Royal street station in this city at 10:30 o'clock and proceeded up King street to Columbus, at which street it turned north toCameron. It ran up the latter throughfare to Henry and when it reached that street a locomotive ofthe Southern Railway which was being backed to the Potomac railroad yards suddenly appeared. The motor car of electric road was at this time crossing the track of the steam road. Fortunately the locomotive was proceeding slowly, and instead of making kindling wood of the motor car, the latter was shoved from the track and partially overturned.

The greatest consternation followed. Glass was broken and nearly all the occupants of the car were thrown to the floor. The locomotive was brought to an immediate standstill.

The excitement accompanying the scramble of the thirty or more occupants of the car to escape was intense, and after an examination had been made it was found that nearly every occupant of the motor car was suffering from bruises or shock. The following were among the injured:

Barnett Shapvio, Washington, hand and face cut by broken glass.

Stephen Richardson, of Washington, cuts on the body.

Motorman C. H. Robey, cut on head.

M. T. Dwyer, of Alexandria, back injured.

Conductor L. H. Beahm, cut on leg and arm.

The "trailer," which is the smoking car, remained on the track, and while the passengers in that compartment were excited and in much confusion, none of them was hurt.

The engine which was backing from the Southern Railway roundhouse in this city to the Potomac freight yards and which collided with the train was in charge of Engineer John Harrington and Fireman Connors. The electric train was in charge of Conductor L. H. Beahm, Motorman C. H. Robey, and Trolleyman Norman Dove.

Motorman Robey was imprisoned in his car and had to be dragged out.

None of the passengers in the rear car was injured.

The bell of the locomotive, it is said, was ringing at the time of the accident. Electric trains generally stop at Henry and Fayette streets to see if steam trains are coming before crossing the tracks.

As a result of the accident traffic over the road was delayed about an hour, all north-bound trains using the King street track.

The work of moving the wrecked car was proceeded with as quickly as possible.

Officer Knight today swore warrants against Conductor Beahm, Motorman Robey and Trolleyman Dove, of the electric road, and Engineer J. Harrington and L. Connors, who were on the Southern Railway engine, charging them with recklessness. The case will come up in the Police Court before Justice Thompson next Monday morning.

FINED FIVE DOLLARS.

Richard Washington, alias Richard Pines, colored, who was arrested last Tuesday night by Officers Young and Garvey on suspicion of attempting to enter a house on Fayette street, was brought before the Police Court this morning. It was suspected that Washington had on several occasions been on sheds in different parts of the city in the night time, presumably for the purpose of committing a felony. On Tuesday night a negro was discovered on a shed adjoining a residence on Fayette street, and a young man had discharged a pistol at the trespasser. Later Washington was arrested by Officers Young and Garvey as he was running from an alley in the rear of the residence. The witnesses this morning failed to identify Washington as the man who was on the shed, but the evidence showed he was running about streets and through alleys with a number of small white boys last Tuesday night, and that he was guilty of disorderly conduct. The accused was fined $5, and in default of payment will be placed on the chain gang.

Thieves entered the building occupied by J. Dreifus & Co., on the Strand, between King and Prince streets, on Wednesday night and stole ten sheep skins.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidneys and Bladder pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills". They are sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

CLOSING OF THE CARNIVAL.

The carnival of Alexandria Lodge of Elks came to a close last night. Notwithstanding the fact that it was the last night one could hardly realize it, judging from the interest taken by those connected with it. The young ladies were busy disposing of articles which had been donated, and when the time came to place the rest under the hammer, but few articles of value remained. Dancing was indulged in and the band discoursed sweet music on the street and in the hall. Again may it be said that those connected with the carnival deserved the richest encomiums that can be placed upon them, and while they worked hard they gave to this city something in the shape of an entertainment never before equalled. All earnestly hope they have made money enough to place a memorial, in the shape of a fine building at Prince and Fairfax streets, which this body so richly deserves.

The prizes were won as follows: Stein set, Mr. Irvin Schwarzmann; centre piece, Mr. Clark Starnell; cut glass dish, Dr. Moore; doll baby, Mrs. Fannie Bendheim; washstand, Mrs. Jacob Brill; watch, Master Joseph Lash; Elks' chain, Mr. S. B. Rice, of Ashland, Va.; chocolate set, Hon. C. C. Carlin; bed spread, Mr. Harry Hockman; piano lamp, Mrs. Boran; cut glass wine set, Miss Laupheimer; brass clock, Mr. Thos Walsh; barrel of flour, Mr. Frank C. Spinks diamond ring, Mr. Andrew Schwarzman; lot on Shooter's Hill, B. Weil.

MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

The Washington Monument Association held a meeting last might at the office of Mr. J. K. M. Norton, and elected Mr. Gardner L. Booth a member, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Anthony W. Armstrong, and Mr. Booth was also appointed attorney for the association and authorized to draw the contracts for the purchase of the Shooter's Hill property, which is to be a part of the proposed George Washington park. Mr. A. J. Wedderburn, the secretary of the association, was directed to close a contract with the owners of the Spring Park property upon a plan that will insure a park of from twenty-five to forty acres.

DEATH OF MRS. MARSHALL.

Mrs. Margaret Marshall, widow of the late Wm. H. Marshall and mother of Messrs. John A. and Charles B. Marshall, of this city, died at the residence of the former today. Mrs. Marshall had been in failing health for more than a year and her death was no surprise to her many friends. She came to this city from Fairfax county in 1891 and resided with her oldest son, Mr. John A. Marshall. She was 79 years of age. Her remains will be taken to the family burying ground near Lorton, Fairfax county, Sunday afternoon, for interment. The sympathy of their many friends is extended the sons of the deceased.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice L H. Thompson presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Isaac Butler, colored, charged with stealing a bell from a schooner belonging to William Fannel was fined $10.

James Fields, a colored boy, charged with disorderly conduct, was turned over to his mother for correction.

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT.

The entertainment given last night by the Musurgia Club, of Washington, under the direction of Edgar Priest, in the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum last night, for the benefit of the [illegible] improvement fund of Grace Protestant Episcopal Church was greatly enjoyed. The club was assisted by a number of soloists. The programme had been prepared with care and it was well-rendered, all participating acquitting themselves in a creditable manner.

STOLE A BELL.

Isaac Butler, colored, was arrested yesterday evening by Officers Rawlett and Talbot charged with stealing a bell from a schooner belonging to William Fannell. Butler was brought before the Police Court this morning when the evidence showed that he had disposed of the bell to a junk dealer. The accused virtually plead guilty to the charge. He was fined $10 and in default of payment will be sent to jail.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY

[Judge J. B. T. Thornton, presiding.]

After a session of nearly two weeks the court adjourned today for the term.

In the case of Annie R. Vernstein, of Washington, against the Washington Luna Park Company; a suit for damages for personal injuries; a verdict for $[illegible] for the plaintiff was rendered.

MEETING OF REPUBLICANS.

W. P. Graves, chairman, and W. H. P. Kelly, secretary of the republican city committee, have issued a call for a meeting of the republicans of this city at Sarepta Hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock to elect four delegates and alternates to the State and district conventions, and to elect a city chairman and committee.

WIRE FOUND.

A youth named Dallas Benzette today reported to the station house that a bag containing about thirty pounds of copper wire had been found near the Belle Pre glass works. Officers Knight, Rawlett, Talbot and Sampson recovered the wire and took it to the station house where it is now awaiting the owners.

SUES HER HUSBAND.

Mary Page Hufty entered suit in Washington yesterday against her husband, Malcolm Hufty, an attorney of that city, for maintenance. The bill alleges that the defendant has refused to support her and their two children, Malcolm, jr., and Mary Page Randolph Hufty, both minors.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The skating rink will be reopened at Armory Hall tomorrow night.

The weather was cold again last night. The mercury at an early hour this morning was down to 21°.

The alarm of fire early last night was caused by a burning chimney in a house on the north side of Wilkes street, between Pitt and Royal streets.

The steamer Parvan from Guanaco, Venezuela, anchored off this city today loaded with asphalt for Washington, but upon reaching this port the captain received orders to proceed to New York.

Alexandria Division, A. O. H., will hold special services at St. Mary's Church on the morning of St. Patrick's Day, and a special meeting in the evening, when the degrees of the order will be conferred.

Mrs. Clinton B. Haddox died at her home in Rappahannock county early this morning, aged 76 years. She leaves two daughters and four sons, one of whom, Mr. Norbert Haddox, lives in this city.

At the meeting of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons last night a large number of visitors from different parts of the country were present including several who are attending the educational meeting in Washington.

The location of the letter box which precipitated an issue between sundry persons living on south Fairfax street has been definitely determined by the postoffice authorities, and the box now adorns the lamp post at the northwest corner of Wilkes and Fairfax streets.

Officers Knight and Talbot this evening brought to the station house a four-year-old boy named Frank Willet, who they found in a shanty in Muir's alley. The child was thinly clad and was suffering from the cold, his mother having left him alone. She will be arrested.

When people buy something that is really worth the money, they are bound to tell their friends about it. That's way the sales of "Auth's" products in the city are steadily increasing. Sylvan Blondheim, city market.

AMERICAN MILLINERY
For the Spring and Summer Season.

Elegant models from the famous Parisian Ateliers, exclusive designs and chic adaptions from our own workrooms comprise our first showing of

Demure and very feminine is the way. The new hats are to be worn flat on the head, without a bandeau.

Hemp, Yeddo, and Chrysanthemum braids; Milan, Leghorn, and Chip Straws are the stylish materials.

In trimmings, flowers lead, and the French milliners have decided in favor of the old-fashioned hardy garden flowers—phlox, sweet peas, primroses, wistaria, hydrangeas, clover, poppies, and roses, of course.

All of the hats have high crowns.

Turbans have come back into favor and promise to be one of the most popular styles of the season, but it is a new Turban, much larger and more chic than heretofore.

The newest sailor is an immense affair called "The Merry Widow Sailor." These come in all the different straws, and are variously trimmed in flowers, wings, Bows, &c.

The newest colors are mousquetaire, which is a steel blue; lotus, a light green, and pimpernelle, a watermelon green. Touches of coral in Spring Millinery are to be quite stylish.

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 28, 1908.

A Nice Legal Distinction.

A lawyer in the Indian Territory named McGann was the attorney for a farmer who had killed a neighbor. McGann got the man out on bail on the plea of justifiable homicide or something of the kind, and the farmer immediately took his gun and killed the chief witness against him.

Naturally this nettled the sheriff and the judges, and they offered $300 reward for the murderous farmer. "Say," said McGann to the sheriff, "will you give me that reward if I get him?" "Yes," the sheriff replied, and McGann rode out to the hiding place of his client.

The farmer came up, and McGann shot him, took the body back to town and demanded the reward. "How about this, McGann?" asked another lawyer. "Do you think it is in accordance with the ethics of the legal profession to take advantage of your client in that manner?" "Ethics be blowed!" snorted McGann. "I killed him in another case."—Exchange.

Sagacity of Blind Horses.

The way in which blind horses can go about without getting into more difficulties than they ordinarily do is very remarkable. They rarely, if ever, hit their heads against a fence or stone wall. They will slide off when they come near one. It appears from careful observation that it is neither shade nor shelter which warns them of the danger. On an absolutely sunless and windless day their behavior is the same. Their olfactory nerves doubtless become very sensitive, for, when driving them, they will poke their heads downward in search of water fifty yards before they come to a stream crossing the roadway. It cannot be an abnormally developed sense of hearing which leads them to do this, for they will act alike though the water be a staguant pool. Men who have been blind for any great length of time develop somewhat similar instincts to blind horses.

French Similes For "Drunk."

The French have some interesting similes of their own corresponding to the English "drunk as a lord" or "drunk as a wheelbarrow," says a London writer. The most generally recognized one in the case of "ivre," the less extreme and less vulgar word for drunk," is "ivre comme une soupe"—"soupe" meaning the piece of bread eaten with soup as well as the soup itself, and a bouillon soaked piece of bread offering a natural simile for saturation. When the less delicate "soul" is used instead of "ivre," the Frenchman may speak of being as drunk as an ass, a cow, a Swiss or a thrush. The allusion in the last case is to the fondness of thrushes for grapes, which are said at vintage time to make them unsteady in their flight.

Worse Inside Than Out.

"If you should visit a Japanese house," said an oriental, "you would be obliged to remove your shoes at the doorway. Japanese floors are very beautifully kept. I know of some houses where thirty or forty servants have no other duty than the polishing of the floors. A young Japanese student, studying in London, had the misfortune to live in an apartment house where the janitor did not keep the hall in very good condition. It was a great change to him, and he felt it keenly. On the approach of winter the janitor put up in the entrance the notice, 'Please wipe your feet.' The young Japanese, the first night he observed this notice, took out a pencil and added to it, 'On going out.'"—Minneapolis Journal.

A Tale of Red Tape.

Among the tales of red tape the following should hold a high place: M. Roger Cavailhon, a young French gentleman rider, who had won his hundredth steeplechase, was drawn for the conscription and had to serve for a year. He asked to be placed in the cavalry, explaining with due modesty that he was not unknown as a horseman. The military council of revision refused the request on the ground that as his period of service was only one year he would not have time to learn to ride.

A Strong Reason.

The bookkeeper of a sportsmen's publication received a letter one day from an old subscriber stating that he had long read it with interest and was aware that it was time to renew his subscription, but did not wish to do so, as he would not need it in the future. It was not noticed that the postmark was that of a town in which a state prison is located, but the postscript was eloquent. It said, "P. S.—I am to be hanged next week."

In a Studio.

"I ordered you to paint me some cows in a stable. I see the stable, but where are the cows?"

"They are in the stable."

"So is your pay for this picture. You had better bring both out."—Saeta.

MUNICIPAL LUNACY.

Edited by JOHN KENDRICK BANGS.

The citizens of New London, Mo., recently declared against municipal ownership by a vote of 160 to 2. Thus again do we find the people deprived of their rights by a corporation ridden majority.

We do not credit the report that New York intends to place its most accomplished bunko steerers at the pilot houses of the municipal ferry. It is more likely to get its helmsmen from the League of American Wheelmen.

An inquirer wants to know why a professor of Latin and Greek should not become a capable superintendent of a municipal cemetery. We see no good reason why he shouldn't, except that his familiarity with dead languages would be apt to put him on such chatty terms with his tenants that he would neglect his business.

A friend of ours has discovered that this talk about depreciation in street car lines is all tommyrot in so far as the crosstown lines are concerned anyhow. It is a well known fact, he says, that these lines never run down. They run across. We respectfully submit this argument to their honors the city fathers.

* *

Without wishing to be at all invidious, we would call attention to the interesting acrostic furnished by the Municipal Ownership Bubble, which, strangely enough, signifies the ultimate ownership of public utilities under the municipal ownership idea. Try it and see:

Municipal Ownership
Bubble.

A Detroit alderman wants Detroit to go into the making of bricks. In a recent speech he declared that "we are in the grasp of the brick trust, when we could reduce prices 100 per cent if we could manufacture our own brick." It is a pity the learned gentleman could not have figured out a reduction of 110 per cent, for then Detroit could have made bricks not only for nothing, but coined a premium of 10 per cent as well. The free coinage of bricks would be an interesting economic diversion.

A request for the last annual report of the municipal electric light plant in a Michigan town of less than 2,000 inhabitants elicited from the manager the laconic reply, "About three thousand in the hole last year." The situation can be relieved, however, by the prompt action of the common council in passing an appropriation of $3,500 for the purpose of the hole on behalf of the park department, thus showing a profit of $500 on the books of the lighting commission.

* *

The municipal pawnshop of Liege, Belgium, is not as popular as it was expected to be. The hope that being conducted for the people by the people to lend money as the collateral of the people a man could borrow $500 on $4.50 worth of jewelry has not been realized.

A French Telephone Experience.

The San Francisco Chronicle is responsible for the following item in regard to Nantes, France:

Some years ago there was a private telephone system which the paternal government took over. After some years' trial the government has just received a petition signed by 10,000 persons, each of whom pays at least $80 a year for telephone service, requesting that the telephone system be sold to some private company, because under a private company they got far better service, were treated with politeness instead of insolence and had complaints attended to instead of being ignored.

British Lighting Plants Sold.

By a vote of 41 to 2 the Bath city corporation has decided to sell the municipal lighting plant, which it purchased in 1896. As this had been run at a loss, even without allowing for depreciation, the sale will result in an immediate reduction of local taxes.

The Irish Independent states:

"The Bray urban council have decided to offer for sale their electric light works, which have been run at a very heavy loss, while the cost of public lighting was in excess of that of Dublin, although the lamps were only lighted for a third of the time they were in the metropolis."

The Dublin municipal plant, however, was run at a loss last year of over $20,000, irrespective of depreciation, which would have brought the loss up to $50,000.

A Losing Game.

The city council of England, Ark., has passed an ordinance leasing the municipal electric light and water plants for six years. An inquiry as to the cause of this action brought the following reply:

"The reason that the town wanted to lease these was because for it to operate them was a losing game, and it could not afford it."

The Telephone In Greece.

According to the United States consul at Athens, the telephone service in Greece is restricted, bad and a source of loss to the government. He believes that private enterprise, if well backed financially, could obtain a favorable concession from the Greek parliament on condition it undertook to install and work an efficient system.—Electrical Times.

FUNCTIONS OF THE STATE.

In a recent address in St. Mary's cathedral Bishop Stang of Fall River thus analyzed the functions of the state:

"The state should not absorb the rights of individuals, but should keep them inviolate unless they clash with the common good and the interests of others. The proper office of the government is to foster public well being and private prosperity by maintaining peace and good order, safeguarding family life, respecting religion and punishing evil doers.

"Civil authority may step in to interfere if through strikes there is imminent danger of disturbance to the public peace, if in workshops and factories there is danger to morals through the mixing of sexes or from any occasion of evil, if the health of laborers is endangered by excessive work or the want of sanitary arrangements or if labor is unsuited to sex or age, but the state should not intervene in or meddle with private concerns any further than is required for the remedy of the evil or the removal of the danger. The state should not only protect private ownership as something sacred and inviolable, but its policy should be to induce as many people as possible to become owners. The possessor of the poorest cabin will not change it for the dreams of a socialistic paradise."

A PUBLIC OWNERSHIP PERIL.

It Would Intrench Corrupt Political Bosses Permanently In Power.

Referring to the recent announcement that 51,146 persons are on the payroll of New York city, the Newark Advertiser declares that in the event of municipal ownership of street railways, electric light and gas plants, ferries and other public utilities the city employees would constitute a political army that would make a change of administration impossible.

It recalls the fact that 25,000 city employees in Philadelphia kept Philadelphia in the hands of the corrupt Durham machine for years and only a great popular uprising finally overthrew the grafters.

"If Durham had had control of the street railroads and other public utilities in Philadelphia through municipal ownership," it observes, "he could have laughed at popular uprisings. He would have been as absolute in his authority as the czar."

The point is well taken.

In other cities the political situation under public ownership would be as it would in Philadelphia and New York.

Bosses may be overthrown and grafters turned out whenever the people will it at present. Public ownership of all public utilities would end this. It would bind the people hand and foot and deliver them into the hands of political grafters.—Long Branch (N. J.) Record.

When Tom's Tune Would Change.

Of course municipal ownership would be liked by any political boss who owns a city, as Tom Johnson owns Cleveland. Just think of what a tremendous increase of political power could be given to him were about 25,000 or more men to be added to the city payroll! How Tom as an "out" would like to be a candidate for mayor against such official backed by the support of an army of paid retainers!

He would like it and favor it just about as much as he liked or favored three cent fare or municipal ownership of street railways when he was managing and owning street railways.—Mansfield (O.) News.

To insist that governmental ownership is necessary to guard against abuses is to confess a degree of impotency which is a libel on our form of government. — Vice President Fairbanks.

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is an unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a Godsend, and no wonder. The thick, foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to satisfy. Sold by all druggists for 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
